To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my sincere interest in your postdoctoral position. I have a broad range of interest in applied mathematics and I have been working on data assimilation and machine learning solutions to PDEs and variational problems.

I am a self-motivated, independent researcher with computational skills. My details (CV, research statement and more) are available at <https://pinakm9.github.io/>. Some visual examples from my current projects can be found at my Github page <https://pinakm9.github.io/gallery22>. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
